

Doodlebug Times 2000

Cold rain and wind at Doodlebug

Oil patch activity in 2000:

- High gas prices, markets expand
- Companies renew their interest in Mackenzie Delta / Beaufort Sea gas
- Oil prices $25-$30, but allure of high techs weakens equity markets for oil stocks
- Major oilsands projects announced by Shell, Suncor, CNRL and others

2000 Highlights:

- Y2K computer issues – no problems, surprise, surprise!
- World Petroleum Congress Held in Calgary
- 6 year old Cuban refugee Elian Gonzales stirs major Cuban debate in the USA
- “I Love You” computer virus infects system worldwide

Inclement weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of golfers at the 2000 Doodlebug Tournament. Icy cold rain, driven by a nasty wind, resulted in Friday round of match play limited to 9 holes. Resourceful Doodlebuggers sought refuge in the basement snack bar of the Springs Clubhouse, and consumed copious amounts of coffee and Baileys, and putting the event’s budget to the test in the process.

Meanwhile, the Guest Tournament consisted of only lunch, drinks and prizes, to the disappointment of many, and the delight of some.

A full 18 holes of medal play was held on Saturday, but again the weather was far from pleasant, starting with a bone chilling frost delay, and ending with a cold, wind driven finish.

Chairman
Brock Hassell*

While we've never actually seen Brock Hassell running down the beach, with his, uhhh....., pecs bouncing, the resemblance between him and David Hasselhoff is truly remarkable. Both exhibit a certain Teutonic studliness, and this was a quality that helped Brock make the 2000 Doodlebug a very excellent event.
